CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

A large section of ore fell from the top of a cut in the Colby mine at Bessemer, Wis., on the 17th, and four miners, named Herman Huppel and Charles Rough, were instantly killed. One other man was seriously injured. The ore fell 35 feet before striking the men.—Theophile Peter, who lives about five miles from St. Louis, was burned Monday night last week. There were nine Christian Brothers and 85 boys in the building, all of whom escaped. Two boys and one Brother, who remained in the burning building, were rescued by jumping and jumped from a third-story window. The Brother was badly hurt. The loss is $60,000; insurance, $4,000.—Mrs. Raywood, wife of A. B. Lillie, Walter, who lives near Ash Grove, Wis., was leaving R. G. Dun & Co.'s Chicago office three weeks ago, have so far recovered that they were discharged from the County Hospital last week. They had been suffering from bad flames of the Cambria Iron Company at Johnstown, Pa. J. B. Smith was overcome by gas and fell headlong into the furnace. Reports were thrown to him, but he soon died. Seventeen bodies were found in the furnace, and cover the body.—A wall of the Empire Mills in New York, which were burned last week, fell yesterday, burying six people under the ruins. The dead were: George W. Smith, who was gathering kindling wood, was killed; Archie Giorgio, 28 years, Italian; James Baffie, 41 years, Italian, and Geo. Mariviera, 35 years, who probably died from injuries; James Chapman, 39 years, foreman, who was laborer badly injured, but will probably recover, and two men slightly injured.—An explosion at the Oil Works of the Lubric Company in Philadelphia, Pa., killed seven men and wounded 15 men.—By the premature explosion of a blast in the Green Mountain (Ill.) coal mine on the 17th, Michael Hook was instantly killed and Chas. Hook and Jack Smith fatally injured. The cause of the explosion was mysteriously established at a tall at Miner's Hall, Beaver Falls, Pa., on the 17th inst. He was standing with others where there was some crowding and the explosion occurred, causing him great sharp pain in the side. An investigation showed a dangerous wound. It is not known who did the stabbing.—The business portion of the town of Hattiesburg, Miss., was destroyed Tuesday morning. Monday night the loss is estimated at $100,000. The insurance is small. Allen W. Dorsey, a medical student at the College of Pennsylvania and son-in-law of Governor Harris, was shot and killed. He was arrested on Thursday morning last at Newport, R. I., charged with wilful murder in connection with the death of Mr. Burton at Newport. The accused was David Thomas, a burglar, who was arrested shortly after the killing. Lawrence through the head at Bath, Me., on the night of Sept. 3, 1883, was hanged on Friday last for the crime.—On Friday last, in the case of the late Samuel Birdslaw, who killed his wife and his son-in-law, Gottlieb Eisbraun, Summerfield had long been caused to drink, and his dissipated habits caused him to become violent and quarrelsome. He was a soldier in the Civil War, and was formerly a watchman at the Patent Office. The County Infirmary near Sandusky, O., was partially destroyed by fire Sunday night last. Loss $100,000. The death and the Superintendent was badly injured and unconscious and unable to give any information. There were 98 inmates.—Mrs Anna Hill, N. Y., was fatally strangled Thursday last by one of her boarders, named Otto Kolank, who returned home drunk, and after abusing her poured a kettle of boiling water on her face. She was taken to the hospital, where she was found in the woods about four miles from Madison, Wis., Thursday evening last. An empty bottle labeled laudanum told the story of her death. Her husband, who has no profession since the drowning of his favorite son some three years since.—Joseph McConnaughey, the Town Marshal of Bridgeport, O., was shot at a clock on Sunday morning last by Silas Conaway, a blacksmith. Conaway shot the Marshal for violating the game laws, and escaped from the lock-up. When McConnaughey attempted to recapture him Conaway fired, injuring the Marshal. Conaway was captured by a large crowd. Samuel R. Smith shot and killed his young wife in Chicago Saturday night last, although the fact of the tragedy was not disclosed until Sunday morning. Conaway occupied a room at No. 210 Monroe street, and was fired about 8 o'clock, which alarmed some of the inmates, but their fears were quieted by Smith appearing and stating that his shotgun was loaded with blanks. Conaway was taken to Castle, Del., Saturday last. Wan. Turner, colored, received five lashes for the larceny of a watch. Alexander H. Fields, charged with larceny of a watch, was sentenced to 10 days in the pillory and received 20 lashes each. Morris, colored burglar, stood an hour in the pillory and received 20 lashes each. A large crowd was present, including seven amateur photographers. On Saturday night last, Samuel Clayback was uninvited to spend the night at the residence of Farmer Birdsall, and persisted in spitting tobacco on the carpet. The farmer's son, William, took offense, and called the intruder fatherless.—The Colored Orphans' Home in Chattanooga, Tenn., was destroyed by fire Sunday morning last. Forty-four children were saved, but the loss was $100,000. All were rescued without accident. The Home was insured, and will be replaced by a larger building.—Rif Barrecliff and his son William, of Boston, Tex., while riding home in a wagon, were shot and killed Saturday night last by persons in ambush.

PATENT!

HOW CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT?

You can ascertain if your invention is patentable by writing to GEORGE E. LEMON, of Washington, D. C., a Scientific Revolver, with a valuable handle, and your copy of your invention, and upon receipt of the same will send you a full and complete examination of your invention, and inform you as to whether, in his opinion, your invention is new and patentable, and if it is advisable to proceed with the same. If you desire a full report and copies of previous patents relating to your invention, and if you wish to proceed with your invention, you should have made a Special Examination of your invention, and upon receipt of the same, you should always take advantage of this special examination before going to the expense of having a model made and filing formal application papers in the U. S. Patent Office.

WHAT WILL A PATENT COST?

After a special examination, you are advised that your invention is patentable, and the estimated cost of drawings and $10. to pay the first Government fee, and application will then be prepared, filed and prosecuted without further expense to the applicant until the Patent Office Examiner admits the patentability of the invention or the case is officially allowed.

After the application has been declared to be patentable, the attorney's fee of $25 is due, but before the patent is issued a second Government fee of $25 must be paid, making the total cost of patent in ordinary cases $100.00. If your invention is not patentable, the cost of a special examination and report will cost $5, which must be applied as part of attorney's fee should an application for patent be proceeded with within 60 days of date of receipt of report.

The attorney's fee is only contingent in cases where a Special Examination has first been made and a favorable report rendered.

When you know beforehand whether you are going to have a patent or not, and no attorney's fee is charged, a patent is obtained. An attorney whose fee depends upon the success in obtaining a patent will not advise that your invention is patentable unless it really is, and he will not advise you to proceed with the application; hence you can rely on the advice given after a Special Examination of your invention, and the Registration of Labels, Trade-Marks and Reissues.

Drawings, Caveats prepared and filed. Applications in favor of Rejected, Abandoned or Forfeited Cases filed. Very often valuable inventions are saved in these cases. If you have undertaken to obtain a patent, and your patent failed, a skillful handling of the case will lead to success. Send me a written request, addressed to the Commissioner of Patents, that he recognize your invention as new and original, and I will, in almost every case, giving the title of the invention and the date of filing your application. An examination and report will cost you nothing. Searches made relative to inventions—in fact, any information relating to inventions is furnished. Copies of patents made for the regular Government rate ($24. each). Remember that you will not be asked for any money in advance, and therefore reap the benefits of experience; besides, you will be able to succeed in almost every case, and your business transacted.
